

OISCA International

FURUSATO is a place that comes down from our ancestors, who have cultivated harmony with nature.

Various cultures, languages, traditions, spiritualities... have, evolved in beauties of nature, been cradled in the diversity.

"Unity in Diversity"

OISCA's "FURUSATO Movement" envisions a world where people live in harmony with diversity of all life forms, appreciating and cooperating among them. As a universal family sharing the common FURUSATO, "Mother Earth".

OISCA's FURUSATO Movement

Capacity Building

OISCA training centers worldwide dedicate to the capacity enrichment of resourceful young people, who have not only agricultural and engineering skills, but also strong mind to lead the community people with love and dedication to their FURUSATO.

Rural Development

To restore sustainable society, OISCA is advocating organically sustainable agriculture, locally-rooted entrepreneurs and capacity enrichment of women to promote their participation in society.

Environmental Conservation

In an effort to preserve the natural ecosystem, OISCA has been implementing conservation activities, tree planting and "Children's Forest Program", while encouraging people to participate in these activities.

The Organization for Industrial, Spiritual and Cultural Advancement-International

Founded on October 6, 1961, in Japan

Main recognitions: UN Earth Summit Award for Sustainable Development (1993),

Consultative status "General" with the UN Economic and Social Council (1995)

OISCA related 32 countries and territories (2010.4)

Azerbaijan, Bangladesh, Brazil, Cambodia, China, Timor-Leste, Ethiopia, Argentina, Azerbaijan, Bangladesh, Brazil, Cambodia, China, Colombia, Timor-Leste, Ethiopia, Fiji-Islands, India, Indonesia, Israel, Japan, Republic of Korea, Malaysia, Mexico, Mongolia, Myanmar, Nepal, Pakistan, Palau, Palestine, Papua New Guinea, Paraguay, Philippines, Singapore, Sri Lanka, Taiwan, Tanzania, Thailand, Uruguay